

Second-hand style

.....
When we move unwanted clothes into the global second-hand clothing supply, they get a chance at a second life elsewhere.

IF you're a brand junkie, search your favourite labels, styles, and size with ease on eBay and Gumtree. Love vintage? Try Etsy, or search vintage sellers on Instagram and Facebook. Check out garage sales or the recycle markets at your local landfill centre – the latter are the most budget-friendly, because sellers don't have the overheads that bricks-and-mortar stores have. Trash-and-treasure markets and clothing swaps can yield hidden gems: check your council website. Try these shopping tips from sustainable clothing experts:

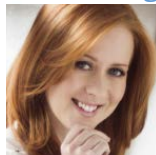

Sydney: Alex van Os
 @opshoptorunway

Second-hand stylist Alex likes Red Cross Op Shop Newport (334 Barrenjoey Road, Newport), Wayside Chapel Op Shop (95 Roscoe Street, Bondi), and Sleeveless Society Vintage (247 Bronte Road, Waverley).

Melbourne: Erin Rhoads
 www.therogueginger.com

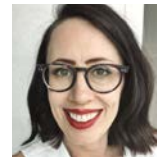

The author of Waste Not likes Savers Stores (www.savers.com.au), Recycle Boutique (2 Johnston Street, Collingwood), and American Rag (3 Southbank Avenue, Southbank).

Adelaide: Julie Hockley and Kelly Daniel www.youusandabus.com

When not hosting second-hand shopping bus tours, they like Save the Children (253 Main Road, Blackwood), Big A Boutique (13 Piccadilly Circus, Colonel Light Gardens), and The Salvos (460 North East Road, Windsor Gardens).

Brisbane: Hannah Klose
 www.neverpayretail.com.au

Expert op shopper Klose shops at Windsor Road Thrift Shop (16 Windsor Road, Box Hill), St Paul's Op Shop (Jubilee Terrace, Ashgrove), and Suited to Success (Anderson Street, Fortitude Valley).

Canberra: Nina Gbor
 @style.by.nina.gbor

Gbor recommends Designer Op Shop Emporium (1 Lyelle Street, Fyshwick), Red Cross Op Shop (165 City Walk, Garema Civic), and The Green Shed

Underground Op Shop (Basement Level and 34E Row, Civic).

Perth: Stacy Jamin
 @sliceofstacy

This eco-conscious vegan loves Salvos Maylands (203 Guildford Road, Maylands), Mercado 32 (@mercado32shop), or Good Sammies (181 High Street, Fremantle).

Hobart: Nat Mendham
 @natalie_mendham

This mum, farmer, photographer, and slow life advocate forages at the following: Recycled Recreation (96 Elizabeth Street, Hobart), Salvos (115-117 New Town Road, New Town), and Overdressed Market (www.overdressed.com.au).

Darwin: Lauren Crawley
 @laurencrawley

An avid camper with a passion for animal rescue and rehoming, Lauren shops at Red Cross Op Shop (Smith Street Mall), Anglicare Op Shop (5 Namarluk Drive, Ludmilla), and Malak

Markets (www.malakmarketplace.org.au). *

Katie Roberts is an environmental scientist focused on sustainability education in the fashion industry.
 www.sustainabilityinstyle.com

